FOREWORD....

This yearbook, THE ROWANIAN OF 1961, constitutes memories of the role you played in the life of our school during the past year. It is hoped that these memories are happy ones which you will wish to relive year after year throughout the pages of this book.

And now, we, the Senior Class of 1961, invite you into a treasure chest of memories prepared by the Rowanian Staff.

DEDICATION....

The Senior Class of 1961 proudly dedicates this publication of our yearbook, THE ROWANIAN, to Mr. J. Buxton Weaver, loyal friend and avid supporter of Rich Square High School. For his many kind words, his sheer devotion to each of us, and the generosity with which he gave of his time to our many school sponsored activities, we dedicate this, our yearbook, THE ROWANIAN OF 1961. Never shall we forget the many years of service and aid he has contributed to our high school and never shall we cease to express our appreciation to this man, our friend.

ADMINISTRATION

To each student of Rich Square High School, I offer this challenge -- "Make yourself a place in the world as you made your place as a member of our student body." Your future, whatever it may be, will always hold fond memories of classmates, friendships, and the extracurricular activities of which you were a part while making your place in our school life.

In future years I hope that each of you shall find happiness in your chosen field of endeavor and remember with fondness Rich Square High School.

To our Grademothers.

The Day That Is Past

Slowly the day is ending.
Shadows fall across the sky.
The sun sets in its beauty,
As the darkness of evening draws nigh.

How like this sunset is our story,
The Class of 1961.
For we, too, have reached nightfall
And must bid farewell, as did the sun.

The day has passed so swiftly,
But the happiness was beyond compare,
Because of friends along the way,
Who had love and dreams to share.

Though our graduation may bring,
Tears of sadness and sorrow:
We weep for friends left behind,
Not from fear of Tomorrow.

For you here at Rich Square High,
Have given us the strength we need,
To face Life with a smile,
To challenge, to conquer, to succeed.

Yet our success, though measured,
Shall not be counted by fame;
But by deeds of faith and love
And acting without cause for shame.

You have taught us the true values,
Dear 'ole Rich Square High,
Too late we learn your real worth,
For now we must say goodbye.

As the light fast fades, and time grows short,
One thing we would ask you to do
Let us remain as the glowing sun
In the hearts of each one of you.

For as we travel down the Road of Life,
The memories of things said and done
Will call our hearts back to the days
When we were the class of '61.

The sun has set in its glory.
The night has fallen at last.
And yet on the morrow will come
Memories of this day that has past.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

In August of 1949, an eager group of thirty entered primary school for the first time. Little did they realize any of the adventures and experiences they were about to undertake as students, and that twelve years later they would enter the same school, only this time as Seniors. To these students this beginning seems like only yesterday.

We began the learning of the fundamentals under Miss Ella Boomer, who was a kind and understanding person, but disciplined us with a firm hand. Soon, we realized that the people around us weren't strangers at all, but our friends and would stick around for the next eleven years.

The next year when we entered the second grade, Miss Emily Coker was our teacher. We left painting and drawing to learn to read and write more efficiently. In our daily reading circles we became expert readers. Quickly, this year passed and we were third graders.

The next year our number had increased to thirty-three. We also began our study of English and science. It was in this year that we learned to write, and before we knew it, we had advanced another grade. In the fourth grade we could once again display our artistic ability. This year we also took up geography for the first time. Our teachers for these two years were Mrs. Olive Askew and Mrs. Lucy Parker, whom we loved very dearly.

The fifth, sixth, seventh, and eighth grades passed by very rapidly with our number slowly decreasing, but our knowledge increasing. Our teachers for these years were Mrs. Alice White, Mrs. Anne Emory, Miss Barbara Etheridge, and Mrs. Charlotte King, respectively. At last we were entering high school.

Our freshman year was a new and exciting part of our history, our teacher was Mr. Joe Browning. This year we began our career in the field of sports.

In the tenth grade we began to feel like we were more a part of it all instead of just on-lookers. Our enrollment was now thirty-three. We accomplished much scholastic work this year, and our homeroom teacher was Mr. Roger Holloman.

As juniors, we began to think more for ourselves and answer our questions as to what makes the world go round. Our extra-curricular activities mainly consisted of making money for our Junior-Senior Banquet. Under the direction of Miss Meredith Edwards we gave a tremendously successful banquet, and under the "Moonlight and Roses" we danced the night away. Our class officers for that year were Glenn Chappell, President, Mary Harrington, Vice-President, Bettie Joyce Cooper, Secretary, Bill Davis, Treasurer; and Jerry Jenkins, Chaplain.

Finally, the long last dream of becoming seniors came true. Twenty-five students entered the Senior Class and under the wonderful guidance of Mrs. Margaret Dunning, made plans for the Senior trip, the Senior play, the Year book, and of course, graduation. Our Senior class officers were Mary Harrington, President, Bill Davis, Vice-President, Brenda Colson, Secretary, Bettie Patrell, Treasurer, Camilla Futrell, Reporter, and Lucy Daughtry, Chaplain.

We realized that as individuals we must go forth into the world and find the place that is ours. But never will we forget our school and wonderful teachers who have had so much patience with us and all our wonderful friends which we made. With these thoughts I now close the history of the CLASS of NINETEEN HUNDRED and SIXTY-ONE.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the Seniors of 1961, having slightly sound minds and very charitable hearts bequeath our most beloved possessions to our faithful friends and teachers. These possessions, we do set forth in this, our Last Will and Testament:

ARTICLE I

The entire Senior Class leave our thanks to our teachers, who deserve great praise for being so understanding and helpful.

ARTICLE II

Camilla Futrell leaves her supply of dates to all the girls who need something to occupy their spare time.

Patricia Askew and Paulette Cannon leave their cooperation to M. C. Brewer.

Bill Davis leaves his love for Carolina to all the underprivileged State fans.

Ray Ivey and Dickie Jenkins leave their farming abilities to Bob Welker and Eddie Taylor hoping they'll appreciate the quiet ways of farm life.

Brenda Colson leaves her smile to anyone who isn't quite able to laugh his way out of the many situations she can.

Bettie Joyce and Barbara Stutz leave their basketball skill to all underclassmen hoping they'll use them well.

Mack Bradders and Mary Harrington leave their flirtatious ways to any others who are going steady and can get away with it.

Earl Daniels leaves his "car-a-week" plan to any present hikers.

Earl Boyce leaves his job at Drapers to any honest, trustworthy, and intelligent young executive.

Glenn Chappell leaves his ways with women and all his nicknames to Thellie Casper.

Paula Millar leaves her pillow for driving to Virginia Draper, who needs it.

Joyce Vaughan and Ingrid Baker leave their love for Chevrolets to Kave Edwards, who already admires their styling.

Jerry Jenkins and Lucy Daughtry bequeath their shyness to Nicky Sue Wells.

Rebecca Askew leaves her secret of carrying on a conversation with Mr. Campbell and studying at the same time to Bobby Blowe, who may be benefited.

Bettie Futrell leaves her secret of speaking with several different drawls and accents to President Kennedy, who can use it to fox Castro.

Martha Miller leaves her desire for drivers license to all prospective hot rodders.

I, Michael Cooke, leave all my A's on conduct to the students who need another A before they can join the Beta Club.

To this our last will and testament we do set our seal on this day, May 29, 1961.

Testator,
Michael Cooke

FOOTBALL HIGHLIGHTS

In August of 1960, twenty-five boys, eager and enthusiastic, reported to coach Henry J. Campbell and line coach Raymond Medford for the preseason football drills. For two weeks the boys and coaches worked hard to find replacements for six regulars of last year's team.

The Red Devils opened their season at home as host to the highly regarded Norlina eleven. After a tight three quarters, during which the score was tied at 6 all, the Red Devils went down to defeat 13 to 7 on a last quarter touchdown by the larger Norlina team. In the next game Rich Square's fighting team overcame early game mistakes and gained a 20 to 0 victory over Colerain.

The following week Aurilean Springs invaded Rich Square. In one of their best efforts of the year, Rich Square's Red Devils handed Aurilean Springs a merciless spanking of 46 to 0.

Recovering fully from injuries the Red Devils entertained William R. Davie to the tune of 46 to 0 in a game that was marked with brilliant offensive and defensive movements.

Always dangerous, Littleton was defeated 19-7. In the game with Ahoskie "B" team the Rich Square eleven fought to come from behind and defeat the Indians 27 to 12.

The season ended much as it had begun. Rich Square traveled to Murfreesboro and at the hands of their arch-rivals, went down to a stinging defeat, 36-13.

Next season the Red Devils have some large gaps to fill with the loss of Dickie Jenkins, Bill Davis, Earl Daniels, Ray Ivey, Mack Bridgers, and Glenn Chappell through graduation.
